Due to the Orders Issued, and Actions Required, by the BC Ministry of Agriculture and Food under the Animal Health Act—General Order AIV 2023-02 regarding the H5 and H7 avian influenza A virus and H1N1 avian influenza, the Rock Creek & Boundary Fall Fair (RCBFA) will NOT host any poultry classes in 2023.

The RCBFA is permitted to display birds from a single farm and flock that have been quarantined from other poultry farms and kept isolated from wild birds. The display will include different breeds, of various ages, of laying hens and meat birds, as well as some turkeys to show in our new Poultry Display Area.

We encourage you to visit the poultry display but please observe the following government rules when you enter the poultry barn:

- ◆ Disinfect your shoes by stepping through the cleansing trough
- ◆ Disinfect your hands at the hand sanitizer dispensers
- ◆ Stay TWO (2) metres back from the cages
- ◆ DO NOT attempt to touch or feed the birds

The RCBFA is educational in nature. We hope that this display will enlighten you and help you to understand more about poultry.

We look forward to a return to our normal poultry show in 2024!!
